April Specials—Angel Messages and Gifts

Meet Archangel Ariel, The Lioness of God

With Earth Day approaching on April 22, it's the perfect time to connect with Archangel Ariel. She is responsible for our planet and our earthly needs. She also oversees the elemental kingdom (the fairies) and works with Archangel Raphael in healing our animal friends.

Ariel's name means "lioness of God" and like a mother lion, she is protective and gives courage, confidence and strength. Her color is pale pink, and she is associated with rose quartz and the Aries astrological sign.

Ariel works with the earth's human healers and protectors. She says many souls are here to help with the earth's changes and are receiving guidance about action steps to take for the planet's healing. Follow your feelings, ideas and dreams as these are all ways our angels communicate with us.

For many of us connecting with nature is essential for our wellbeing and balance. Ariel says when we feel stuck, anxious or fearful to go outside. Take off your shoes and put your feet in the dirt. Ask the earth to absorb these emotions. Expect renewed energy, peace of mind and a sense of being one with nature.

If you work inside away from nature, have something to remind you of your elemental nature such as a seashell, a crystal or a plant. Go outside as often as you can even if it is just for a few minutes.

Ariel also cares for earth's human inhabitants. She is the archangel to call upon for help meeting your physical needs as her specialties include Divine magic and manifestation. Many ask Ariel how to attract financial abundance. She says to attract prosperity we must have thoughts and beliefs that support our abundance—not thoughts of lack or poverty as those beliefs will only bring those experiences to you.

As with all the angels, Ariel works with all who call upon her. All that is required are an intention, a request and finally to allow.

Connect With Your Pets' Angels on Earth Day

As you express your love and appreciation for the earth this Earth Day (April 22), take a moment or two to connect with your pets' guardian angels—the fairies.

These Divine beings are different from the angels as they reside on earth and have egos. The fairies are delighted to work with you and all our animals provided you share their love and respect of nature.

Just as our own guardian angels want to help us with all our earthly concerns, so do our pets' angels. You can call on them to help you communicate with your furry loved ones, to assist with medical and behavioral issues and to help them transition back to their non-physical form when it is time for them to return home along with our loved ones.

Angel Wisdom: Recharge & Reset Your Battery

How often do you recharge your cell phone or other battery driven device? How often are you recharging your own batteries? How much time do you spend plugged into joy? How about creativity? What are you plugged into, and when do you rest?

Society may preach constant productivity and believe too that daydreaming is a waste of time and an occupation of fools. The angels suggest a day of rest from all work, distractions and negativity. Does that sound ridiculous?

If you do not believe that you have enough time to take a day off, challenge that belief through an experiment for one week. Create a time grid for each day from the time you wake, to the time you go to sleep. Keep meticulous records during this week as if you were an attorney billing a client for your time.

At the end of your examination, you will see that based on your priorities, you have plenty of time. You have the perfect amount of time for what matters. By having your activities in black and white in the physical world, you can more clearly identify and evaluate your choices.

If a day of rest is still too big of a leap for you, begin with baby steps of carving out short periods of time for stillness, rest and contemplation. Quantity is not the focus here. Rather, it is on quality. Look for and ask for your angels' help in locating blocks of time or in releasing distractions so you can fully rest and recharge.

Rest gives you more energy by recharging than pushing yourself and your body beyond limits will. It is during these times of stillness that the door opens wide for your angels.
